

Framework program of internships for the Circular System Technologies

- Workplace as a place of future professional activity.
- Getting to know the circular system technologies used in the plant.
- Detailed familiarization with the technology selected by the plant.
- Methods used to control process efficiency and product quality.
- Economic practice and knowledge acquired during education.
- Independent task in the position indicated by the workplace.
- Activities of the plant in the field of environmental protection.